

How will you use my information?

The American Board of Telehealth will only utilize learner information to meet continuing education accreditation requirements, to send reminders about the course or other continuing education opportunities. We will not give your information to any third party vendors.